In this issue of SAFOG journal, we trace the history of SAFOG which I am sure you all will find interesting. SAFOG as an organization has grown now and is gaining strength as a leading organization working for women's health.

SAFOG office-bearers are now invited to almost all world forums for opinions and views. Our views are now taken for maternal health at all these meetings. A report of WHO meeting is presented here by our president.

The SAFOG congress at Agra was a landmark and many important issues were debated and discussed. A landmark 'Agra Declaration' was issued and is presented here for all members and this shows our commitment to maternal health in our region.

Scientifically, this issue deals with diverse issues of Obs/Gyn and infertility. Important topics, like male infertility treatment with alternative treatment and holistic and nutraceutical approach, have been presented, hyperinsulinemia and hyperhomocysteine in PCOS have been discussed, the three-delay in maternal healthcare has been revisited and is still the leading cause of maternal mortality and morbidity. Other review articles and case reports complete the journal in this issue. We once again stress on the need of contributions and subscriptions from all SAFOG countries. We invite all to submit original research papers, letters to editors, articles of review, interesting case reports, etc. for the forthcoming issues of the journal.
